

The Scientific Data Hosting Service (SARDC) is a repository including other repositories aggregation facilities. This service intends to make available an open access platform to the scientific data produced at national level.

The service is available at: <http://dados.rcaap.pt>